

Drover's crew goes all Greek

WHILE the show may be exported all over the world, it was only a flying visit to Greece for the Drover's Run crew on Saturday.

The actors were in charge of organising the McLeod's Daughters wrap party and Doris Younane stepped up as event organiser, choosing a Greek theme at the West Beach Surf Life Saving Club. She also led the way on to the dance floor with fine support from Michala Banas and the make-up girls, led by Suzie Warhurst. The joint was rocking but that may have had something to do with the open bar. It was a chance for all involved in the popular Channel 9 drama to celebrate the end of series six. The gang now has an eight-week break. Things obviously are going well between Aaron Jeffery and Michelle Langstone – the pair were very lovey. Newcomer Dustin Clare was in fine spirits despite an on-set motorbike accident. Luke Jacobz arrived minus buddy Laura Weston or on-screen brother Brett Tucker.
